Speed Kills

Higher vehicle speeds significantly increase likelihood of death

Our bodies can only tolerate so much physical impact. Even small increases in vehicle speed significantly escalate risk of severe injuries and deaths. System designers and policymakers can use proven tools to encourage lower, safer speeds. Where there is a mix of people walking, biking and driving — 20 is plenty!

LBS Natives Tour

Enhancing Our Green Spaces: Natural Area Maintenance

As residents of Lake Barrington Shores, we are privileged to live among beautiful green spaces that add value to our surroundings, promote biodiversity, and offer peaceful retreats for relaxation and recreation. These areas, often referred to as natural landscapes, are more than just aesthetic features—they are vital ecosystems that support a variety of native plants, wildlife, and beneficial environmental processes. Proper Natural Area Maintenance (or Ecological Landscape Management, as it is sometimes called) is essential for preserving these spaces and ensuring that they continue to thrive.

Gardeners of the Shores has invited Sarah Voska of Bluestem Ecological Services to talk about the history of the land so you will see how it affects our beautiful property. We hope you will join us for this presentation followed by a short, guided walk along a shoreline path on August 13 at 10:00 am in the Lodge Ballroom. There is no charge, but we do ask you to dress for the weather and wear comfortable shoes, a hat, and sunglasses. (There will be a little surprise sampling at the end of our walk.)

Natural Area Maintenance is more than just keeping our green spaces tidy. It's about fostering a thriving, sustainable environment that benefits both nature and the community. Through mindful, eco-friendly management practices, we can all contribute to maintaining the natural beauty and ecological health of our shared spaces for years to come. It is important for all of us to understand the role native plantings play in sustaining wildlife and pollinators.

A little background

Bluestem Ecological Services is a sustainable company that builds, restores and maintains native ecosystems. Their goal is to bring elements of the original Midwest landscape back to its natural state. They develop partnerships based on a balance of people, the environment, and economic value with a mission to develop native ecosystems through sustainable land management partnerships that will last for generations. Bluestem is the Native Landscape Contractor for LBS from 2024-2028.

Gardeners of the Shores, con't.

A little background, con't.

Sarah Voska grew up living in Tower Lakes and visiting her grandparents in LBS, biking around the lake, and going for walks through the forest preserve. She was an intern at Citizens for Conservation while finishing a degree in Sustainable Management from the University of Wisconsin-Parkside. Sarah has worked extensively in climate change and environmental education – volunteering with organizations including the Tower Lakes Lake Committee, US Representative Laura Underwood's Science Advisory Committee, the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration Youth Task Force, and Gateway Technical College's Horticulture Advisory Committee.

Gardeners of the Shores Butterfly Garden

Did you know LBS has a Butterfly Garden? Do you know where it is?

The Gardeners of the Shores Butterfly Garden is located adjacent to the marina and across from the Veteran's garden and is desperately in need of some TLC. There is a dedication plaque with the garden name to help you identify it.

With the help of the Birds and Butterfly Club, the Conservators, and the LBS Landscape Manager we have compiled the list below showing the steps we will need to take to bring the Butterfly Garden to an attractive and sustainable space to be enjoyed by all LBS residents and guests:

- Remove the golden rod that has taken over much of the garden
- Replenish natives, and
- Add annuals, such as zinnias, cosmos, lantana, that are nectar rich and attractive to butterflies

The Trees Lake Barrington Shores

Trees are one of the special features of Lake Barrington Shores. In the development of LBS, the James Brothers took extra care to consider the existing trees in the way the buildings were placed. This was ahead of its time. To this day, developers prefer to have property clear or have it cleared. That is easier and cheaper. By protecting as many of the existing trees as possible, the developments tree canopy looked more mature than normal then and we can enjoy many trees that were here when Lake Barrington was formed a century ago.

The only way to accurately know the age of a tree is to cut it down, but you can estimate the age of many kinds of trees by measuring its circumference at about four feet up the trunk. The big Cottonwood south of the marina is about the same age as the lake. There are many oaks and hickories that are far older. Many dating back from around the time of the first European settlers entered Lake County, in 1834. There is a hollow White Oak tree just south of the marina, which is about 187 years old, making it an acorn in 1838. If you look at both of those trees, you will notice the cottonwood is bigger, but younger. That is because of how fast different kinds of trees grow. Cottonwoods take just two years to grow an inch in diameter. It takes a White Oak five years, or more. Landscape Manager, Mary Albanese, says one oak off Oak Hill is estimated to be 250 years old.

More important to us today, keeping mature trees meant less disruption to the soil during development and they continue to hold soil today. This is particularly important around the lake, where anything that washes into the lake reduces its capacity permanently. Trees also cool the area around them and help reduce winds. The Arbor Day Foundation notes that a mature tree will reduce heating and cooling costs for a homeowner by hundreds of dollars per year.
