AC CHECK

What you can do yourself Before you call a technician to service your system, cross these tasks off your maintenance to-do list.

Clean what you can

Clean or replace any filters inside your system's indoor unit. Also, clear away any dirt, leaves, and debris from your system's outdoor unit. Pro tip: Keep plants, weeds, shrubs, and other vegetation at least 18 inches away from your outdoor unit to avoid debris buildup.

Watch out for leaks

Check for leaks or holes in your system's ductwork, evaporator coil, or cabinet (the outside "shell" of your unit that holds all the parts inside together).

Keep your ears open

Listen closely for any strange noises when your system starts. If you hear any, call a technician to inspect the problem more closely.

Perform a smell test

Take note of any suspicious or unusual odors when your system starts. If you smell anything strange, call a technician to identify the issue.

Keep your vents clear

Make sure you move any furniture, drapes, rugs, etc. that could be blocking your supply and return vents.

When to call a technician

There are some situations only a professional should handle. Here's when you need to call in an expert.

Your energy bills keep rising

If your utility bills increase but your overall usage remains the same, one or more components of your system may not be working as they should.

Your comfort isn't consistent

If your air conditioner, furnace or other HVAC system can't maintain consistent temperatures, a technician is the best person to investigate the issue.

Your unit's fins are damaged

Bent or damaged fins on your air conditioner or heat pump's outdoor unit can trap heat inside your unit, causing performance and temperature issues.

Your unit takes on a lot of water

Excessive water, such as from a flood, can seriously damage your unit's electrical systems. If you suspect that your unit's mechanical equipment might have water damage, do not attempt to resolve the issue yourself. Call a technician. Electrical problems are potentially life-threatening and should only be handled by a professional.

INSURANCE

Questions about what homeowner insurance you should carry compared to what your HOA insurance provides? Check the link below for the information by HOA:

<https://www.lakebarringtonshores.org/insurance/>

REPORTING LANDSCAPE ISSUES

Maintaining the beauty of Lake Barrington Shores is no small task. Our community's landscape includes rolling terrain, extensive garden beds surrounding our homes, more than 10,000 trees (including those in our natural areas and forest preserve), Lake Barrington, and the many ponds throughout the property. Each of these elements requires specialized care and ongoing attention to remain healthy and attractive.

As an LBS resident, you play an important role in helping preserve this beautiful environment. In a previous issue of Shores, we encouraged homeowners to water the turf, garden beds, and trees around their homes – especially during periods of hot, dry weather. Another valuable way you can help is by promptly reporting landscaping issues, particularly those resulting from storms.

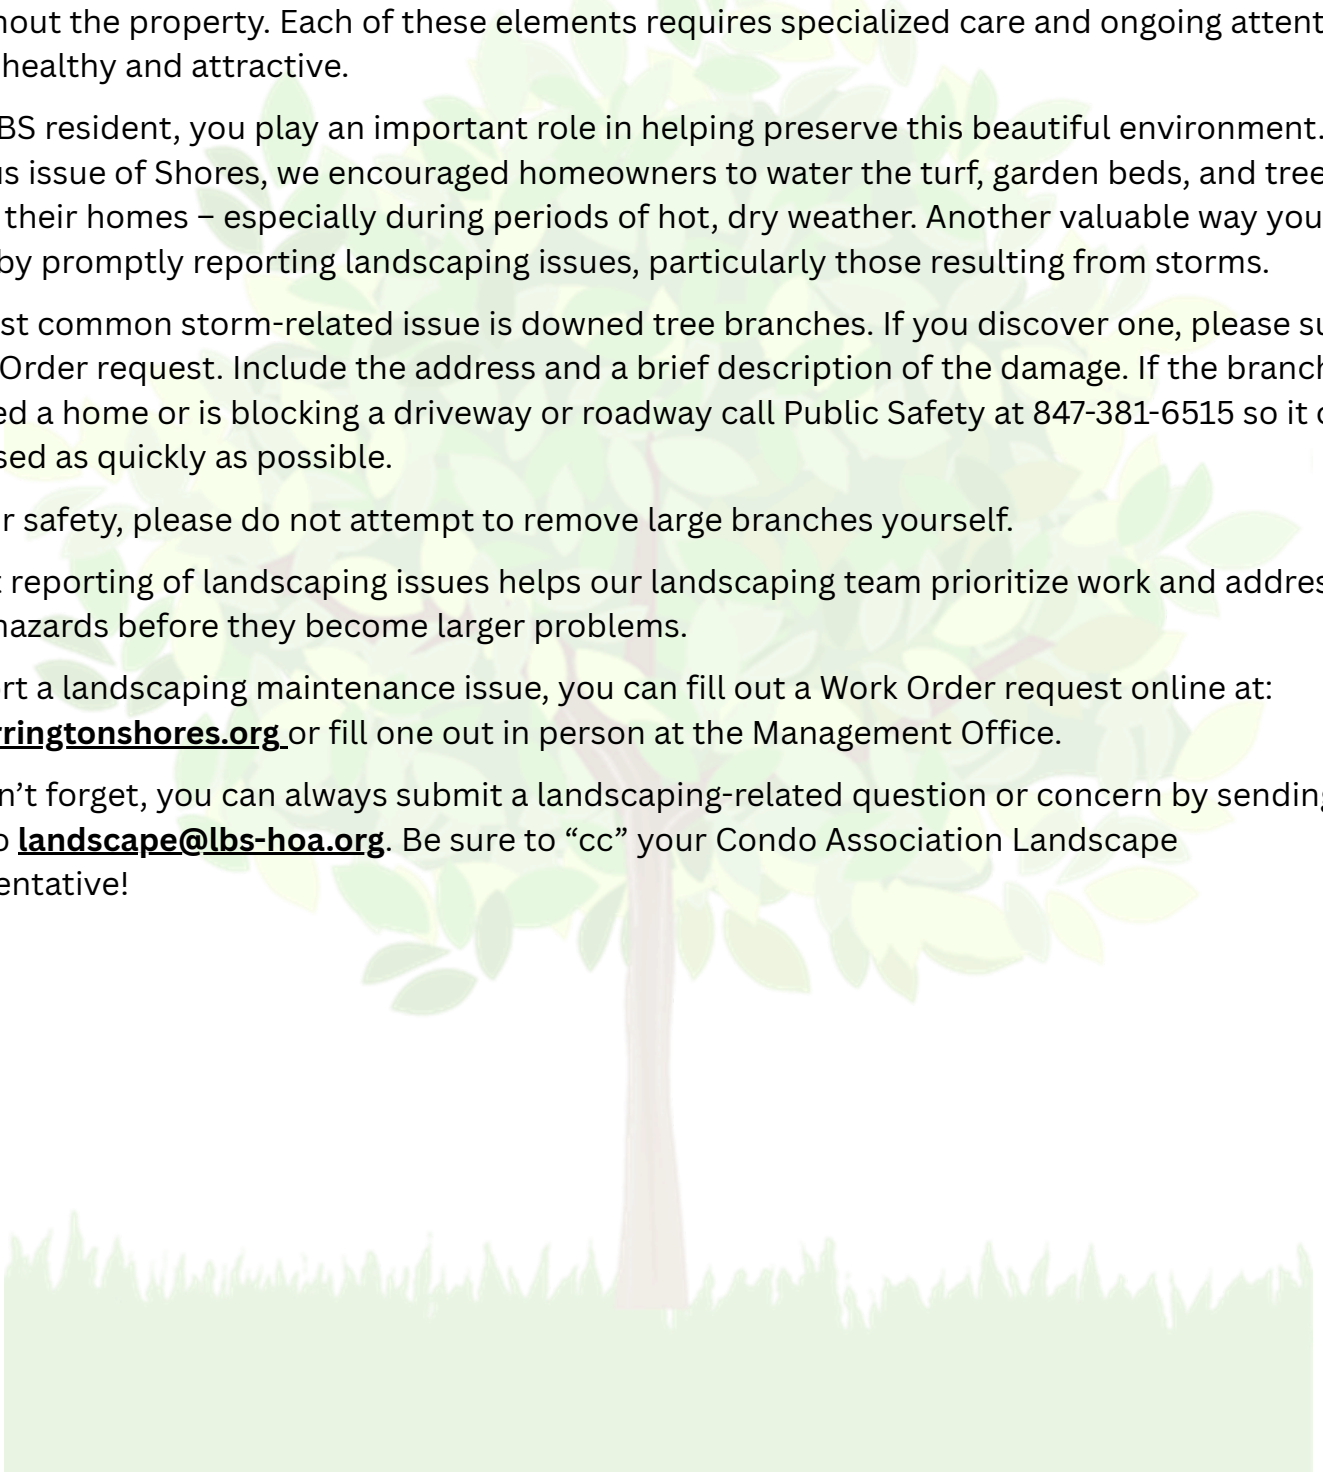

The most common storm-related issue is downed tree branches. If you discover one, please submit a Work Order request. Include the address and a brief description of the damage. If the branch has damaged a home or is blocking a driveway or roadway call Public Safety at 847-381-6515 so it can be addressed as quickly as possible.

For your safety, please do not attempt to remove large branches yourself.

Prompt reporting of landscaping issues helps our landscaping team prioritize work and address safety hazards before they become larger problems.

To report a landscaping maintenance issue, you can fill out a Work Order request online at: lakebarringtonshores.org or fill one out in person at the Management Office.

And don't forget, you can always submit a landscaping-related question or concern by sending an email to landscape@lbs-hoa.org. Be sure to "cc" your Condo Association Landscape Representative!

Sometimes friendship isn't built around deep conversation. It grows because you are doing something together....riding in carts, laughing at bad shots and celebrating the good ones. Ladies league is not just about the game. It's about the women you get to share it with.

Bird & Butterfly Club

The BBC is sponsoring a live raptor education program this fall by Northern Illinois Raptor Rehab and Education (NIRRE). Mark your calendar for Saturday, September 12, 2026, at 1:00 pm. More information will follow so keep your eye on this page!

Our members have spotted these lovely creatures here at LBS recently! The Redheaded woodpecker population has been declining in northern Illinois due to habitat loss and competition for nesting sites. It was spotted at a suet feeder in an LBS yard. More common is the Red-bellied woodpecker which has some red on the back and top of its head and a rosy-colored belly. Here's an interesting comparison shot and the one seen in an LBS garden. Additionally someone spotted a beautiful Painted Lady butterfly at the Sharecropper's garden where many native flowers are blooming!

If you see one please leave it alone!

CHARTER CLUB UPDATES

Recently I have found my hummers are finishing 8 oz. of sugar water in three days! There's a lot of them right now. It is said that every 9 cubic feet of space in the U.S. has been investigated by a hummingbird, so if you haven't seen one yet don't give up! Get yourself an inexpensive feeder like the one pictured. They are about $12 at Ace Hardware and Home Depot. There are many beautiful feeders for sale but make sure you choose one you can easily and thoroughly clean in warm soapy water. That's important as bacteria and mold can build up and kill hummers.

Your feeder should be refilled when it is empty. Hummers check their food sources on a regular rotation and if your feeder is dry for a while they might take you off the route! Here is a chart of how frequently your feeder should be cleaned and refilled based on outdoor temperatures (from Citizens for Conservation). And don't pay for premixed or red food mix. The best is to make it fresh with 8 oz boiling water, stir in 1/4 c granulated WHITE sugar (no brown, powdered or raw sugar as these can be deadly) until it's fully dissolved, let it cool and pour it into your feeder. They often come around in the evening so relax and watch!

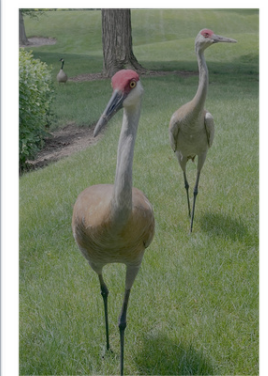

Some of you may have also noted and wondered about the "white" Canada goose that was hatched here a couple of months ago (lower right corner of top photo). This is not an albino goose but a "leucistic" sighting which occurs in about 1 in 30,000 hatchlings. Think this is where the Ugly Duckling story originated? It is thriving here at LBS and still with its family as seen this week...

Finally say hello to this pair of Sandhill cranes seen around LBS!

THE CONSERVATORS

Preserving, Protecting and Restoring native areas

Join us in our 35 acre forest preserve on Monday mornings. We'll meet at 9:00 at the Old Barn entrance. Call or text Ann at 847-714-5228 or email her at golda57@hotmail.com for details.

Come and learn about restoration and be a part of this amazing process. There are many ways for you to help. Give us the opportunity to show and guide you.

We continue to eliminate invasive plants such as buckthorn and honeysuckle. Russian olive, privet, barberry, garlic mustard, dames rocket, thistle, yellow and white sweet clover and European alder are also invasive and are removed to give native plants a chance to grow.

We also pick, prepare and sow native seed. Consider joining our team for this rewarding and important work. Seed picking will be spontaneous. Call Ann to get on our list.

If you can't help pick seed or work with us, consider supporting us monetarily so we can purchase native seed or possibly sedges to hold the creek bank that feeds into our lake. Your donations would be appreciated and much needed. Contact Ann for how to donate.

Here is a monarch caterpillar on the underside leaf of a common milkweed. Monarch butterflies only lay their eggs on milkweed plants. Milkweed plants are also their food source.

LBS THURSDAY MAH JONGG

Please join us if you play MJ and would like to play with a friendly group. We are a drop in group who meets each Thursday at the Lodge in the card room from 9:30am-12:00pm. Join us on Thursdays or can call Shirley Bossard at 847-363-2907 with questions.

BUTTERFLY CORNER: HIDDEN GEMS

I am excited to share four family-owned shops in downtown Lake Zurich that are not only delightful hidden treasures but also generous donors to our butterfly garden.

Lake Zurich Florist

Getting to know Ann LoveJoy was a wonderful experience. She is incredibly grateful for her career here and speaks highly of her dedicated team. This flower and gift shop is a must-visit for anyone who appreciates beautiful cut flowers and unique gifts.

Après

While you are at the flower shop, stop next door to treat yourself to a taste of France. Jenn, the owner and baker, offers extraordinary creations that are truly delicious. I recommend enjoying a treat there and taking some home to share.

Pure Beauty by Maggie

Located across the street, this all-organic day spa is an excellent local gem. Maggie is a certified Eminence skin care expert using plant-based, non-toxic ingredients to help you look and feel your best.

Lake Jewelers

Next door to Pure Beauty is my favorite jeweler. This family-run business offers beautiful new pieces and high-quality in-house repairs. Their well-priced services keep me coming back, and I recommend them highly.

I hope you enjoy exploring these wonderful local businesses and letting them know how grateful you are that they are supporting our LBS BUTTERFLY GARDEN

Tropic Delight in the City

Members of Gardeners of the Shores are all set for an exciting upcoming visit to the beautiful Lincoln Park Conservatory, one of Chicago's iconic treasures. Step inside these four historic Victorian era glass greenhouses and leave the outside world behind as you explore lush tropical plants, colorful blooms, majestic palms, gorgeous orchids, and fascinating exotic specimens from around the globe. You can then venture outside to visit the Federal Garden, Bates Fountain, the Von Schiller Monument, the Old English-style Grandmother's Garden, and the Shakespeare Monument.

Date: July 16

Location: Lincoln Park Conservatory, Chicago

Time: 8:30 Tennis Court Parking Lot OR Train* (please see note below)

Cost: No Charge (The Conservatory suggests a $10 donation)

Lunch: RJ Grunts, Lincoln Park (at attendee's expense)

RSVP: By July 10 to Dara Saunders - dlsfrog@att.net

For those who wish to drive we will meet at 8:30 at the Tennis Court Parking Lot to carpool to Chicago.

For those who wish to take the train into Ogilvie Transportation Center we will meet you at 10:00 am at the front entrance to the Conservatory. You will have to arrange your own transportation between Ogilvie and the Conservatory.

A Little Bit of History – By the mid-1800's Chicago had become overcrowded. City leaders became concerned about the ill effects of both population growth and industrialization and how the presence of plant life could play a vital role in maintaining environmental health and human well-being. This resulted in an interest in collecting and classifying plant life. The decision was made to build a new and more substantial conservatory which would replace a small greenhouse built in the 1870s. Architects Joseph Lyman Silsbee and M.E. Bell designed and built an exotic-style glass conservatory which was described as "a paradise under glass". Originally, the aquatic plants were placed in a heated pond outside and were later moved into tanks inside the conservatory. The Conservatory's exotic plants were so popular that in 1897, the Egyptian government asked the Conservatory for seeds of water lilies flowers.

Bring your curiosity, your camera, and your love of plants as we enjoy a day surrounded by nature's beauty in the heart of Chicago. We hope you'll join us for this green and growing adventure!

Thinking About Joining Me?

I'm Roberto — born and raised in Spain, now calling Minnesota home. Spain is where my family still lives, and where I love sharing the country's wine, food, and culture with the people I host. I personally guide you through medieval towns and villages, with access to historic buildings most visitors never see.

I'd love to come visit Lake Barrington Shores in person for a casual Spain travel presentation — sharing photos and answering every question you have. If there's interest from the community, just reach out and I'll happily make the trip from Minnesota.
